2019 in Review

December 2019

Can you believe that 2019 is coming to a close so soon? A lot sure has happened over this past year! Evangelism Mission has seen God do many things! We officially launched Holiness Pioneers, hosted our fist interns – Trevor Mills and Spencer Rectenwald, served the homeless in Salt Lake, held many street meetings, open-air preached to many thousands, and passed out thousands of tracts, prayed with countless people, and have seen souls come to Jesus for forgiveness of their sins! God has been good to us, that is for sure.

Prayer Requests

- Increased personal strength from God for our staff
- Souls reached
- Finances would be supplied by the Lord
- To find office help
- Traveling safety
- Missionaries for SLC and regional areas in US

After his internship this summer, God has led Spencer Rectenwald to join Holiness Pioneers as a new missionary. We are very excited about his joining our team! Our goal is to start a mission in Salt Lake City this June. It's our 2020 Vision for SLC. Lord willing, Spencer will be moving to Salt Lake City in June to work as a missionary on our SLC team. We will be launching a new mission that will grow into a functioning local church. If you have not heard about this new endeavor, you can learn more at:

Another change that took place this year was my involvement in the office. After graduating from Union Bible College in May, I switched from being part-time with Evangelism Mission to full-time. I also moved back to Mifflinburg, where our headquarters is located. I now work in the office as the bookkeeper, which means that I enter our financial data. Jeffrey Neidermyer is still the official treasurer. He takes care of bank reconciliation and our financial reports.

Unfortunately, there is one change we are not as happy about as the previous ones. Ezra Morley's time with Evangelism Mission will end after December. Although we are certainly sad to see him leave, we are encouraged about what God is leading him to do. He feels God leading him into Bible translation, thus needing more time for schooling. We're excited to see what his future holds and ask that you would keep him in your prayers as he prepares for this noble leading of God. Please also pray that we find the office help we need since I am temporarily doing most of the office work, which will become increasingly difficult since I am starting back to college in January.

We have been blessed this past year by what God has done through Evangelism Mission. It is both humbling, and yet a privilege to look back and see how God has worked! It is even more encouraging to know God never stops working, and the same God who saw us through this past year, has already seen us through this coming year!

Gabrielle's 2019 December News Update

It seems the last time I wrote, fall was just starting to make itself known with consistent chilly temperatures. Now we're only a few weeks away from winter! Time sure does know how to skate by us! I hope you all have enjoyed time with family and friends over Thanksgiving. I had a nice Thanksgiving and got to see a lot of family and friends!

Since I got back from our last mission trip in October, I've been working in the mission office and moving into my apartment. I feel like I've become a lot more acquainted with my responsibilities over the past month and a half since I've been home. Surprisingly, for anyone who knows anything about QuickBooks, I'm enjoying entering our data into QuickBooks. It's a rewarding feeling when you know everything is entered! Along with working in the office, I've joined in some local street ministry. A few weeks ago, I went with my dad and some people from the Danville God's Missionary Church along with a man from Emmanuel Wesleyan Church of Gratz to Bloomsburg University. We passed out quite a few tracts and both my dad and Rev. Nathan Yohe preached.

I've mentioned in past newsletters that I feel God leading me to get a master's degree in social work (MSW). I've felt God leading this way for the past three years. However, I first need a bachelors in a related field of study. Lord willing, this January I will start taking online classes through Hobe Sound to get my BA in counseling. I'm excited to take the next step in getting my MSW, but also a little nervous about juggling my responsibilities. I would certainly appreciate prayer!

I hope you all have a wonderful, Spirit-filled, uplifting Christmas season!
